Dear Students ,

Does it happen with you that, you have studied well but during examination you are not in a position to recall all the facts? How will it happen if you never forget your studies ! yes, I am talking about strong memory. Memory is very essential for success in studies and achievements. You must have heard about Sundar Pichai, the CEO of Google. He can keep in mind many phone numbers, data and many more. Not only Sundar Pichai, many Indians like Rabindranath Tagor , Swami Vivekananda, etc are well known for their exceptional memory. Here I tell you a story about swami Vivekananda. It will make you realize how strong memory he had. Swami Vivekananda was a voracious reader. One of his young disciples, a boy used to fetch books for him from nearby library. The boy used to take a new book every day from the library and return the old one everyday. One day the librarian asked the boy that "your Swami ji, does he really read the books or just see and return them". The boy became very shocked to listen this. He came back to Swami ji and told the whole story to him. Swami ji smiled a little and told the boy that one day myself will visit the library and clear the doubt of the librarian. So one day Swami ji visited the library and asked the librarian that if he had any doubt that the books were really read or seen and returned. The librarian gave the notion that those books were so voluminous that it is not possible to read within one day. Now swami ji told the librarian to ask some questions from the issued books. To his surprise Swami ji not only answered all the questions but also cited many of the lines from the books exactly. The librarian was very surprised and impressed. He asked pardon from swami ji. When Swami Ji was asked about the secret of his memory, he answered that chastity, perseverance, meditation, and high concentration made him to achieve such memory. If anyone sincerely tries for it, he/she can achieve.

SPORTS UNITES HEARTS

Sports is a unique thing. In other word we can say that a connective tissue that binds two persons unbreakable with each other not on the basis of their financial status , background or religious beliefs.

In every field of sports, we find that players serve a bond not regarding to their background but on the basis of their determination and stubbornness to win. In a game, all players play together and this shows a glimpse of a new rising relationship between two hearts. It not only joins two persons but also fosters international amity amongst nations and countries.

Sports give persuasion to increase the ability of a person to do something more delightful for the nation. As we all know that sports is as much important as the study is, it also gives us power, guts and makes us stubborn to fulfill our dreams. Nelson Mandela said, "Sports can change the world. It has the ability to do something enormous for the development of humanity, amity and brotherhood. It can do the things beyond the expectations of an individual that a government can never imagine to do". Due to sports, eleven players in cricket, belonging to different families are bound together without having the thought of the background of the others.

A six lettered word ' SPORTS' makes a person feel about the human bond. In simple way, we can culminate that if we have to live together in the garland of unity then we have to promote the sports and keep it alive in our midst.

I really feel privileged to be one of the fruit of such a giant and mighty tree, my OPJS family. I feel fortunate that I and other students like me got an unparalleled teachings from our school that helped us to excel in our lives. I used the word "fortunate" for a reason because I got such type of education from being in a small place that I was able to do what I wanted with my life and this is the story of many others

COVID pandemic has put a hole in the deck of education system and we all are suffering so much. I feel elated that in this tough situation my school has devised excellent methods of teaching so that the gap can be filled well and the students are maximally benefitted and all this is only possible under the guidance of our respected Principal Ma'am.

I am in constant touch with my teachers and heartily want to appreciate their dedication towards imparting the best teachings by rebooting themselves to online platforms in this time. I am a proud Jindalites and always grateful to my school.
